Templeton Escapes Injury in Accident

Robert L. (Dink) Templeton, 40, Stanford University track coach, escaped injury here Wednesday when his machine jumped a curb and struck a telephone pole on Redwood Ave., three blocks west of

El Camino Real in Redwood City. Redwood City Police Officers Gordon Keller and James A. Snider, called to the scene, took Templeton into custody on an intoxication charge. Booked at the county jail at 12:30 a.m., he spent the remainder of the night there, being released at 10 a.m. on $100 bail posted by his attorney, Arnold

Rumwell, Palo Alto city attorney. Templeton is to appear on the charge before Police Judge Edward I. McAuliffe on June 1 at 2 p.m. After his release, Templeton told police that he had not been driving the machine; that a companion whom he declined to name apparently had fled immediately after the accident.

Appointments By Supervisors Ire Peterson

County Manager Fails To Win Favorable D. A. Ruling

A surprise move by the board of supervisors late Tuesday afternoon, when it appointed an elevator operator and three janitors for the new courthouse annex, touched off an unprecedented display of verbal fireworks from County Executive Frederick Peterson.

Learning that the board had usurped what he considered his privilege to name the four new county employees, Peterson stormed into the meeting room shortly after the board adjourned.

White with rage, Peterson shouted at Chairman H. H. Smith: "What the hell are you fellows trying to do?" Quick to take offense, both Supervisors Alvin S. Hatch and Fred E. Beer warned Peterson to curb his language before two women present in the room.

GOES FOR SULLIVAN
Peterson refused to be quieted. Informed that the board had acted on advice of the district attorney, he ran out of the room and brought in Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan.

"Now tell them," he demanded. Sullivan ruled the board was acting within its powers. The executive then threatened to withhold approval of payroll claims for the four appointees. "I won't pay them," he threatened.

"You don't have to pay them," countered Smith. "The taxpayers will pay them."

I'm going to give it to you," Peterson warned as he left the room and returned to his office. Shortly thereafter he called Sullivan into conference. After the interview he expressed regret at having lost his temper, but characterized the action of the board as a "low-down trick." He admitted having promised at least one of the positions. The board's move came at the end of a hectic session which lasted far into the afternoon. As the meeting ended, Chairman Smith asked Sullivan for a ruling on the question of filling the four newly created courthouse jobs. Sullivan offered to prepare a written opinion, but Smith asked for an immediate decision. The assistant district attorney then informed the supervisors that the power to create new positions rests with the board, and only they

Subsidy Urged To Aid Shipping

A plan for a direct, unrestricted subsidy to foreign trade shipping companies was urged by Roger D. Lapham of Atherton Monday in San Francisco as he assailed present merchant marine policies of the federal government. Lapham spoke to 400 at a luncheon opening Foreign Trade Week.

Lapham proposed that instead of the present subsidy contracts with the government, the shipping firms be offered government-built ships for cash on the auction block.

"Knock them down to the highest bidder, he proposed. 'Sell only to American citizens, whether an individual, or a corporation, or to the Seamen's Union.

"Sell them for what they can bring and don't hamstring the buyer with such restrictions as are placed on the subsidized contractors under the 1936 act."

"Much might be said about the crime of selling for 10 cents on the dollar. But is it any crazier than paying for those not planting (agricultural crops) when they might have planted? After all, you will have something to show for it—ships plying the seven seas, operated by those who have put up real cash and still have a stake to lose."

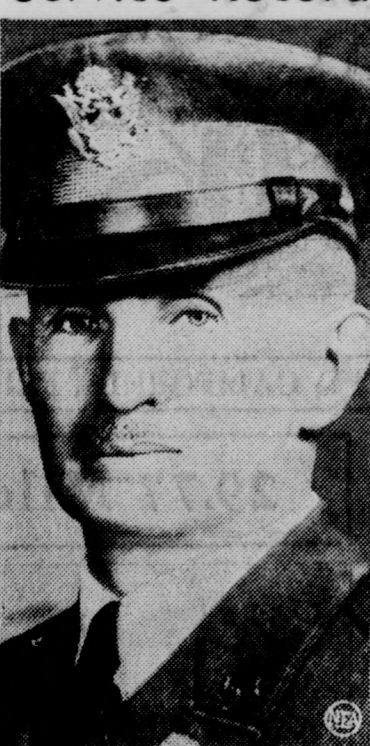

Lapham warned against the risks in the present subsidy system.

"The profit incentive finds the risks too great," he said, "and always in the back of the head is the thought—How long can I rely on a contract made with the government?"

He said free capital, generally speaking, is not interested in the subsidy contracts, and foresaw government operation of merchant marine, a costly and dangerous expedient in his opinion. He predicted that government operation in the highly competitive foreign trade field would lead to trade disputes and even to war.

When Children Fuss at Meal Time

There must be a reason. Poor appetite, fussing, fidgeting and crossness are natural to normal childhood. They may mean the presence of large round worms, and even the carefully safeguarded home may not be immune.

These unwelcome parasites infest and distress millions of children and many adults. The infection may be caught from flies, dogs, uncooked vegetables, fruit, contaminated water, dirt, etc.

Fortunately, large round worms can be expelled pleasantly. Just get Jayne's Vermifuge, the kind that doesn't require starving before or during treatment. It is mild and mint flavored. Does not upset digestion. Constipation may accompany large round worm infection and should be relieved with the aid of a suitable laxative such as Jayne's Laxative Pills. At all druggists. Dr. D. Facing Arrest, Man Kills Self At Auto Camp

Faced with arrest because he had failed to pay the remainder of a drunk driving fine, William Leisk, 59-year-old carpenter, committed suicide yesterday afternoon as two deputy sheriffs knocked at the door of his auto camp cabin near Redwood City to serve him with a warrant.

Def. Sheriffs Adolph Waldeck and Walter Moore heard the shot as they knocked at the cabin door. They called the manager, who let them in, and found Leisk on his bed. He died within an hour at Palo Alto Hospital.

According to the State Highway Patrol, Leisk's machine, which had crumpled a front wheel after hitting a tree near Crystal Springs Golf Club Monday, had been left there since that time. Patrolman John Couch went to investigate yesterday, and at 1:30 p.m. found Leisk at Cabin 9, Ideal Auto Camp on Charter St. south of Redwood City.

APPEARED DAZED

Couch said the man appeared to be in a daze and answered questions incoherently, finally telling the officer to have the automobile towed to a garage. Couch left him at about 1:30 p.m.

At 3:05 p.m. the two deputy sheriffs arrived at the cabin. They said Leisk was arrested in South San Francisco Apr. 29 for drunk driving, and next day paid $75 of a $100 fine. Because he failed to pay the balance, Judge W. H. Dinning issued the bench warrant.

According to attendants at the auto camp, Leisk and his wife had been living there for about a year. She left two nights ago.

WIFE IN PLACERVILLE

Undersheriff Lawrence Nieri said a stepson living in Concord had contacted the Santa Clara County coroner and stated the mother was in Placerville.

It was the second suicide to follow a South San Francisco bench warrant on drunk driving charges. George Hayes, 59, a Palo Alto mail clerk, was involved in an accident at South San Francisco Feb. 11. On Feb. 13 a warrant was issued charging him with failure to appear and drunk driving. His body was found in the garage at his home on Feb. 23. He had been missing 10 days.

Leisk shot himself through the temple with a .32-20 calibre revolver. Officers said his room was in a state of disorder.

RECREATIONAL AND INDUSTRIAL SETUPS STUDIED

Redwood City's industrial and recreational possibilities were scrutinized by widely-known authorities in their respective fields yesterday.

As a result, delegations were informed that:

1. If Redwood City can present factual information on its industrial advantages, it has excellent opportunities to secure some of the more than 40 different types of industries now contemplating locating on the West Coast.

2. Although Redwood City has made marvelous strides in development of a recreation program, the setup here is still far from adequate—in fact, is only about half developed.

As a result of the industrial consideration, a survey was authorized to be made by the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce. See Page 5 for full details.

As a result of the recreational facility inspection and discussion by Maj. George W. Braden, city officials and other interested men are giving study to this problem. Full details will be found on Page 11.

Hudkins Is Sued For $346,400 As Result of Crash

Ace Hudkins, race horse owner and former prize fighter, was sued for $346,400 damages in superior court today by six Redwood City victims of an automobile accident assertedly caused by Hudkins' careless and negligent driving.

The plaintiffs: William W. Anderson, 27, 130 Madison Ave., Redwood City, who asks $101,400.

Marie Anderson, 27, his wife, $10,000.

Robert West, 23, 411 Buckeye St., $100,000.

Phyllis West, 24, his wife, $25,000.

Leonard Purdom, 25, 1603 Oak Ave., $100,000.

Ansell Purdom, 25, his wife, $10,000.

All were injured in the head-on crash.

Co-defendants in the action were Hudkins' wife, Mildred, to whom his car was registered, and two brothers, Ab and Art Hudkins. The complaint, prepared by Atty. Norman S. Menifee of Redwood City, alleges that Ace Hudkins was the agent and employee of the two brothers.

The accident, which occurred May 18 on Bayshore Hwy. near Mills Field, may result in criminal charges against the ex-prize fighter. Results of the State Highway Patrol investigation were turned over to Dep. Dist. Atty. Burrell Karmel today for a decision.

Hudkins has been in South San Francisco Hospital since the accident. He is suffering from a leg injury.

R. C. Model Home Sells for $22,250

Redwood City's model home, built for display to World's Fair visitors this year, has already been sold, although it won't be completed until the middle of next week. A. J. Wilbe, the builder, disclosed.

While he said he was not at liberty to disclose identity of the buyer, Wilbe said the sale price was $22,250. The purchaser, "a new person coming into Redwood City," will not take possession until close of the Golden Gate International Exposition the end of the year. Wilbe explained. The house will remain in control of the exposition model homes committee until that time, and be available for showing, as had been planned.

"The house probably will be ready to show by the end of next week," Wilbe said.

Jail Term Given Youthful Car Thief

Judge Maxwell McNutt sentenced Kay Roberts, 20, San Mateo, to six months in the county jail after refusing the youth's plea for probation and transfer of the case to juvenile court on Monday. Roberts, whose mother lives in Ft. Bragg and whose father is in Ohio, was accused of stealing a car in San Mateo. He was arrested in San Jose for reckless driving.

According to Probation Officer Francis Robinson, he recommended against sending the youth to Preston reformatory because of his previous record and the expense involved to the county.

Also in court Monday morning was D. A. Morrison, South San Francisco, charged with driving an automobile after his license had been revoked. He entered a plea of guilty and asked probation. Hearing was set over two weeks.

Judge McNutt appointed Atty. Percy W. Jackson to defend Bernard Wiedman, who assertedly attempted to hold up a Redwood City service station May 5.

Arraignment of Sam Lodato, charged with assault to commit murder, was continued one week.

Rogers Street Work Is Begun

Work on the paving of Rogers St. between Arguello and Bayshore Hwy. to open a new entrance to Redwood City from the high-speed road was under way today by L. C. Smith, winner of the contract for the work on his bid of $4497.50.

Completion of the long-awaited project is expected in about four weeks, City Manager C. L. Dimmitt said.

Final approval to completion of new facilities at the Port of Redwood City was given by the City Council last night. The council convened in informal session to study the city budget, and took one official action, Manager Dimmitt said—adoption of a resolution accepting the new wharf facilities and warehouse at the harbor.

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED that Tuesday, the 20th day of June, 1939, at the hour of 2:00 o'clock P. M. of said day, at the chambers of said Board of Supervisors, at the County Court House in Redwood City, California, be, and the same are hereby fixed as the time and place for hearing said petition; that notice of such hearing be given by publication of a copy of this order in the Times-Gazette, a newspaper published in said Coun-

False 'Fire' Call Sends R. C. Truck On 20-Mile Run

Fire Warden Bert L. Werder today was investigating a "false alarm" from Brisbane in which the forest service was called upon to play plumber by a frantic housewife.

According to Werder the "alarm" came to the sheriff's office at 3:40 a.m. and was forwarded to him. The woman said her home was on fire and that a water main had burst. The county's new $8600 tank truck went into action, only to learn on arrival after a 20-mile run that there was no fire and that the Brisbane department had shut off the broken water pipe.

The housewife, listed on the report as Mrs. Conolly, told firemen she had called everyone, including the mayor, to get help while her husband tried to stem the flow of water, and cried "fire" to get action.

SUFFERS MINOR INJURIES

Mr. and Mrs. Alden D. Silbey of San Francisco suffered minor injuries at 7 p. m. yesterday when their machine struck another driven by Severiano Baca, 24, Decoto, Calif. The accident occurred on Canada Rd. 1/2 mile south of the Filoli Estate entrance.

ty of San Mateo, for at least two successive weeks prior to the day fixed for said hearing, and by posting a copy of this order conspicuously along the line of the proposed vacation of said street or highway, and that on the day so fixed for said hearing, or on the day to which such hearing may be postponed, said Board will hear the evidence offered by any party interested, and that if it appears from all the evidence submitted that the parts of said Alameda de las Pulgas described in said petition are unnecessary for present or prospective public use, said Board will thereupon make its order abandoning and discontinuing such parts of said street or highway, or such other order as it may find proper in the premises.

Council Ponders M. P. Park Work

MENLO PARK, May 24—Policy of the city council regarding the development of the new recreation park was debated last night at a meeting of the Menlo Park council as the board considered suggestions for immediate work.

"All this discussion is fine talk, but all action of the council thus far has been of a temporary nature," charged Councilman Henry Carroll.

Mayor James E. Cooper suggested to the council a resolution of intention for maintenance of the park after work is done on it to establish a baseball diamond and to lay out a future site for tennis courts and other sports facilities.

"We need comfort stations and water facilities out there right now," said the mayor. "Let's quit talking about it and go to work now."

Councilman Frank Beeton asked the mayor whether funds to improve the grounds were to be budgeted in next year's city budget or whether they would be spent now, to which Cooper replied that immediate completion of the work was necessary so that the baseball field could be used this summer by Menlo Park teams.

Approving the workings of the dog quarantine ordinance which was in effect last year, the council at Carroll's recommendation voted to continue the same system during 1939-40. Dog owners must have their animals vaccinated before they can secure their licenses, the council decided. It voted to continue the ordinance in effect, calling for license fees of $2.50 for males and $3.50 for females; this includes both vaccination and licensing.

The board also approved a lease with Daniel Hayes for rental of

BOARD ASKS ONLY LIVESTOCK MEN BE NAMED TO 'COW PALACE' BOARD

In a resolution adopted by the board of supervisors Tuesday morning, Gov. Culbert L. Olson was urged to fill any existing or future vacancies on the board of directors of Agricultural District 1A from the ranks of men with practical experience in the livestock industry.

Only director whose term has expired is C. H. (Bert) Sooy, San Francisco attorney.

The resolution cited an asserted lack of public confidence in previous management of the district, and the fact that the benefits of livestock shows at the Bayshore City "cow palace" had not been realized because the buildings remained incomplete despite large expenditures of money.

Supervisor John A. Lynch of Burlingame who introduced the resolution denied it was intended as a rebuff to Sooy.

The resolution was passed only after Lynch assured the board he would oppose any further allocation of county funds to the district.

The board set June 20 for public hearing on a petition to form a sanitation district in East Palo Alto.

Chamber Launches Survey of Redwood City Industrial Possibilities

Factual Data To Be Obtained

So that Redwood City may present factual information to industrial concerns seeking locations, a survey to gather such data will be begun immediately by the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce.

This was decided last night when a score of chamber directors, business and professional men, city officials and other interested parties met in the chamber office to hear industrial authorities discuss possibility of Redwood City vying on an equal footing with other bay region communities in attracting new industries, then voted unanimously to have the survey made.

Influencing the civic leaders to decide to have the survey made immediately under supervision of Chamber Secretary Manager Roscoe D. Wyatt were statements made by F. J. Letchfield of Burlingame, banker and industrial expert, and H. W. Squires, San Francisco Chamber of Commerce industrial staff member.

40 TYPES SEEK SITES
Squires disclosed that at the present time there are more than 40 different types of industries known to be contemplating moving from the East to the West Coast. "And most of them are considering the San Francisco Bay Region," he added.

He declared that "we have a mighty good product to sell in the Bay area" and explained that the job of his bureau was to correlate the information to make it easily and understandably presentable.

Letchfield explained that what was needed for presentation to industries was technical, factual data, since it is seldom that an industry can be sold on a community through high pressure salesmanship. Rather, he explained, they know what they want; the community's job is to give them facts so they can determine if the specifications are available here.

STANDARDIZED DATA
When data is gathered, it should be standardized so that it can be compared with that of other cities, he said. Information from this city and others in the area of the Central Coast Council of the State Chamber of Commerce, to whose industrial committee Letchfield belongs, will be compiled "and reduced to a common denominator," he declared.

Importance of the entire bay region working together was stressed by both Letchfield and Squires. "We need to get all our people to talk one language," Squires stated. "We've lost some industries in the past due to competition among ourselves. They've gone to Los Angeles."

Part of the data will be assembled within the next month so that Letchfield may have it to present to "a large internationally-known firm that is definitely committed to a Pacific Coast plant," the group directed Manager Wyatt. Letchfield said that the firm, which probably would demand deep water, would employ from 1500 to 2000 men.

'LOGICAL PLACE'
"The logical place for them is down in this direction," he declared.

Later, in answer to questions, he stated that he believed the Peninsula had as good or better chance to secure industry than the East Bay.

After slightly more than an hour of discussion, the group voted, on motion of David D. Bohannon, realtor, to have the survey made around a pattern designed by Letchfield's industrial committee of the Central Coast Council of the state chamber.

The manual considers (1) sites: commercial, industrial, waterfront, political subdivisions; (2) construction: building regulations, labor and material costs, construction facilities, structures available; (3) utilities: power and light, fuel, water; (4) transportation: rail, water, highways, air; (5) resources: raw materials, semi-manufactures; (6) labor: resident supply, itinerant supply, status of labor unions, ordinances respecting union activities; (7) restrictions and special conditions: waste disposal, taxation; (8) climatic conditions: temperature means and extremes, precipitation means and extremes, humidity means and extremes; average number of clear days per annum, prevailing winds.

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION FOR COMMUNITY HOSPITAL

Editor: I don't know of a better way to thank our public servants which include the nurses and doctors of the San Mateo County Community Hospital, than using the columns of our county seat newspaper, the Redwood City Tribune.

I would also like to show my appreciation and thanks to the Community Hospital and its very able staff of doctors and nurses by adding to what I have read before in the Tribune, concerning this hospital.

If any one is in doubt about the good services rendered at this hospital, they should put in an 8-hour shift there trying to follow these nurses around.

It seems to me that their toe is always on the mark waiting for the bell that calls them to some sick bed.

I was in three different wards and spent several months in Community Hospital, due to two operations and I know that from Miss Wilson, director of nurses, right on down, they are always on the go; also Superintendent Hayes has everything under control, and the house doctors can be reached at any moment during the day or night.

I don't think there is a more able hospital staff in the state, and the citizens of this county should be thankful for that. You never know when you will be one of its patients, and if you are you will know then that the nurses and doctors deserve a big hand for the work that they perform day in and day out. I sincerely thank them for all they did for me.

One of the finest services rendered at the Community Hospital is the X-ray service. Here the patients are given wonderful service, both by X-ray and the fluoroscope machines. The nurses in this branch of the service are especially to be recommended for the way in which they handle some of the almost helpless patients in getting them on and off the different machines. One of these nurses, Mrs. Cameron, also acts as a librarian, and she will exert every effort to get any book or periodical that any patient asks for. This is a mighty fine service to bedridden people, especially patients who have no friends to bring them reading matter. I say again that a big hand should be given to the staff of this hospital from Dr. Charles C. Gans right on down the line, including the city and hospital clinics.

JOSE MORANO,
Veterans Hospital.

Slot Machine Case Is Delayed Week

SAN MATEO, May 25—Continuance of one week for setting of trial date yesterday was granted.

George Campe, owner of the restaurant and bar at Crystal Springs Golf Course, when he appeared before Justice Hugh Mullins Jr. of San Mateo, for arraignment on charges of keeping slot machines. Campe asked the continuance to give him time to obtain legal counsel. Bail was continued at $100, which was furnished. Neither representatives of the district attorney's office nor the secret group of 15 Burlingame and Millbrae residents who obtained evidence against him appeared. The group, of which Atty. E. C.

Mahoney of Burlingame is representative, has announced it will obtain evidence for further arrests unless action to stamp out slot machine gambling is taken by county authorities.

9% Increase Is Approved

San Mateo County's 1939-40 salary ordinance as finally adopted Tuesday by the board of supervisors established a county payroll of $590,345, according to the total compiled by County Controller Thomas J. Kane.

The figure represented an increase of $47,713 or slightly less than 9 per cent over last year's allowance of $542,713. It was only $8298 less than the total requested by county department heads, and was $38,740 more than the figure approved by County Executive Frederick Peterson.

Yielding to demands of organized labor for higher pay for low-salaried workers at Community Hospital, the board added $720 to the Community Hospital budget to allow $60 a year more for each of three kitchen helpers, eight kitchen maids, and a bus boy.

The board also added $300 to the first township justice court budget, allowing a total of $900 for clerical help; $150 for the second township justice to increase the clerical allowance to $450; and $300 for the fifth township justice, who had no previous allowance for a clerk.

ROAD SALARIES EXTRA
Not included in the salary budget total is $21,780 in road department salaries, to be paid from gasoline tax income. Included, however, are $23,160 in district attorney and sheriff's office salaries which qualify for the Alcohol Beverage Control Fund provided by the state, the two items virtually compensating each other from a tax levy standpoint.

Most controversial items in the budget were the health and welfare department and Community Hospital items, all of which won substantial increases. Also controversial were $300 increases for each of three deputy district attorneys, a provision for a fourth assistant and a third stenographer in the same office. Payment of $518.48 to the United States Public Health Service for claims against the county in connection with the survey of the county health department now being completed was authorized by the board, although Supervisor John A. Lynch pointed out the board had no assurance that there would not be further USPHS claims.

DUE NEXT MONTH
It was expected that the federal report would be forwarded to Washington late this month and released to the board of supervisors through the state health department early in June.

Other business transacted by the board:
Agreed to accept $618.13 as compromise payment of its claim against Charles B. McAlpine and Brunswick, Balke, Collender Co. for damage to a tractor and road broom in a Bayshore Hwy. collision Aug. 25.

Transferred $750 to the sheriff's budget for food for county prisoners.

Instructed the district attorney to warn owners of racing kennels in Colma that they must secure permits in an industrial zone to keep more than two dogs. The order was interpreted as an ouster for the kennels, Colma being unzoned. Nearest industrial zone is on Bayshore Hwy.

Received an invitation from Charles Meinert of North Fair Oaks Improvement Club to attend

NEW MANAGER

Bruce M. Knox (above), who for more than a year has managed the Montgomery Ward and Co. store in Monterey, has been named manager of the firm's Redwood City store, succeeding Joseph A. De Geller, who has been transferred to Nampa, Ida. With Mrs. Knox, Knox is establishing his home at 141 Finger Ave. Although he lived in Tucson, Ariz., before being sent to Monterey, Knox is acquainted on the Peninsula, having been graduated from Stanford University in 1930.

Route Is Marked For Serra Road

Workmen of the State Highway Department were at work today pounding in three-foot iron pipes which are the markers for the extension of Junipero Serra Blvd. from San Bruno to Hillsborough.

The pipes disclosed for the first time the information, long awaited by real estate interests in Burlingame and elsewhere on the Peninsula, that the road will enter Hillsborough on a straight line about 100 yards west of Alvarado Rd., Burlingame Hills.

The big six-lane "model highway" will cut across Adeline Dr., Hillside Dr. and Canyon Dr. before it reaches the Hillsborough line.

Not completed yet is the survey from Hillsborough south, which will be another sector of Junipero Serra. This sector will cut through some of the most beautiful residential sections of the Peninsula and will undoubtedly force the destruction of at least a few beautiful homes in Hillsborough.

South County Sewer Project Is Inspected

County Engineer M. A. Grant and Health Director Charles C. Gans accompanied C. C. Gillespie, chief of the state bureau of sanitary engineering, on an inspection tour of the South County sewerage system last week, but no definite conclusions were announced by either of the two county officials.

The trip was made with the idea of determining whether an effort would be made to revive the proposal made last year to establish a South County Sewer District.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

J. A. DONOHUE PASSES

MENLO PARK, May 26.—There was a large attendance at the funeral of Joseph A. Donohue that took place from the Church of the Nativity last Saturday. The services were simple in keeping with the wishes of the family of the deceased. The church was crowded and inside the chancel were a large number of clergymen who had known Mr. Donohue for years. Father Ramm, chancellor of the diocese and pastor of St. Mary's Cathedral, friend and frequent visitor at the Donohue home, celebrated the mass. Entombment was in Holy Cross, Colma.

Mr. Donohue was born in San Francisco 75 years ago and resided nearly all his life in Menlo Park, a place he loved so well. Mr. Donohue was a true Christian, devotedly to the tenets of his religion. He gave, without ostentation, freely to the cause of charity and aided those in want. His gifts were many, but only the recipients were aware of it. He was modest, sincere and abhorred display in the giving of alms. He will be remembered by many who enjoyed his friendship and who admired him for his gentleness and kindness and love for his fellow man.

William Henry Powers passed away at San Jose last Thursday and was buried from the Church of the Nativity. The deceased was born in Menlo Park 45 years ago. He was a carpenter by trade and was a busy man but he never was so engaged as not to visit his aged mother here every Sunday. His filial love for his parent was the outstanding trait of his life. His devotion to her was admirable and beautiful. He knew that a "boy's best friend is his mother," and left nothing undone to make her happy in her declining years. Such a man is worthy of adulation and the best emotions of the poet.

John Frederick Hummel, only son of Fred Hummel of Menlo Park, received his degree of AB from California last week after a four-year course. He is a bright young man who worked his way through the university after graduating from Sequoia.

It is rumored that Harvey Brothers, owners of the Menlo Theater, are to erect a new theater building across the street from the present one. It is also said that the new play house will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000. Harvey Brothers, Inc., operate a chain of 27 theaters in California, and most of the buildings are owned by the company.

The amount collected for the construction of the proposed gymnasium for St. Joseph's School is over $6000. The balance of $2000

Peter Towne, 4, Is Badly Burned

Peter Towne, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall B. Towne of 338 Edgewood Rd., Redwood City, was in Palo Alto Hospital today suffering from serious burns incurred in a mishap at his home early Monday morning.

Because the child was ill with a cold, a steam kettle had been placed in the room near him. In required will be subscribed later. Plans are being prepared for the building. Work will start this Summer.

The election of one trustee each for the grammar and high school takes place on June 2. Several candidates are already preparing to enter the race for the positions which carry no pay, and very often many headaches.

F. W. Johnson is quite ill at his home in Stanford Park. For some time he has been unable to attend his duties as road overseer for this township. Mr. Johnson is one of the best road builders in the county.

Victorine Boetto and Katie Derry, delegate and alternate, respectively, will attend the Grand Parlor of the Native Daughters in San Francisco next month. The session this year will be interesting on account of the World's Fair.

Twenty Sixth District American Legion Hospital Chairman Isabelle Weeden Lindquist presented the following program for the entertainment of the patients at the Veterans' Facility near Palo Alto Friday, May 19th.

Songs, dances, novelty numbers by Beaudoin Studios with Heston Beaudoin as master of ceremonies, Mabel Beaudoin at the piano; Laddie Bryner, baritone, with George Wilcox accompanist singing Deep River, Blow Your Trumpet, Gabriel, Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes and Wagon Wheels. Beaudoin Studios' finale included specialty numbers by Bob Steffens, Linda Arena, Joyce Arena, Spud Beaudoin, Heston Beaudoin, Beverley Chambers, Carole Lazaraschi and Diane Bianchi, Victor Peschke, tenor, with Mrs. Lindquist as accompanist, sang Caro Mio Ben, Ol' Man River and Mountain Stream. The Four Trojans gave a study of co-ordination of mind and muscle.

Menlo Parlor, NDGW, gave a whist party in Central School last night.

The local sons of the Legion Squadron will be hosts at a dance tonight in the Central School Auditorium at 8 p. m.

The many Menlo Park friends of Deaconess Margaret Booz who assisted in the parish work at Trinity Episcopal Church some years ago will be pleased to learn that she has recovered from her recent illness which kept her confined in St. Luke's Hospital, San Francisco. She is now convalescing at the home of friends in Pacific Grove. The deaconess is a cousin of William H. and Charles M. Weeden and Mrs. Abbie W. Driscoll.

All civic and fraternal groups are boosting for San Mateo County Day June 11, at the Exposition. Practically everyone in town is wearing a booster button.

the early morning he apparently fell out of bed and in doing so, or in getting up, he knocked over the kettle. Boiling water covered his body from his hips to his shoulders, inflicting serious burns. Recovery of the boy is expected, however, barring complications.

The child's father is operator of the Towne Motor Co. in Redwood City.

A new tower-like structure will be built at Stanford University to house the Hoover war library.

Bankers Urged To Construct

Peninsula bankers who attended the California Bankers Association five-county meeting in San Jose Saturday today faced a thoughtful challenge from Col. Robert A. Roos of Hillsborough, president of a chain of retail clothing stores.

Speaking to the assembled bankers, the merchant urged them to offer something constructive instead of "sitting over a highball" and deploring the times.

"I am impressed with the up-setting fact that most plans, good or bad, for the solution of this industrial maelstrom, have come not from the brains of management but from the leaders of labor," Colonel Roos declared.

Warning that the time had come when business men must pick up the reins of leadership or relinquish them for all time, he advocated sincere research foundations, leadership to retrieve the rights of self-management, and inclusion of "dollar-a-year undersecretaries" to serve the department of commerce as liaison officers between industry and the broader social reforms of the government.

Referring to John Public, Colonel Roos said: "If in the face of what appears to be the most ridiculous logic, he... votes for candidates and legislation which may, eventually, shake down the temple on his own head—and when he does, it is perhaps because he has had his own locks shorn by scores of Dellahs for an interminable number of years."

The merchant said he did not mean to level his challenge particularly at bankers and financiers, and predicted that such meetings indicated rebirth of the forces of traditional leadership.

"When this kind of leadership takes its rightful place," he said, "you need have no fear of the American public. It will rout every un-Americanism into its oceans and vote American ideals with overwhelming majorities."

Elected president of the five-county district was W. T. Rice, Santa Cruz. First vice president is R. H. Partridge of Los Gatos, and second vice president is L. T. Dodd.

S. C. Youth Among Six Hurt at Fair

Robert Humphries, 19, of San Carlos, suffering a lacerated knee, was one of six actors in "Cavalcade of the Golden West" who were injured in two separate backstage accidents at the World's Fair Tuesday.

The old Wells Fargo stage coach driven by Louis Cabral, 35, Stockton, went out of control during a wagon tongue was broken during the afternoon performance. The horses dashed backstage out of the sight of spectators where the coach was upset on a turn. Humphries, riding inside as a passenger, and Lawrence Jepson, 22, San Francisco, escaped serious injuries. Jepson suffering a sprained wrist.

Cabral, thrown to the ground, incurred lacerations of the head and possible concussion. Lawrence Cannon, 32, Berkeley, riding atop the coach as a shotgun guard, incurred possible back and internal injuries.

The audience was unaware of the occurrence of the accident until a hospital ambulance sped across the huge outdoor stage in the midst of the "Gay Nineties" scene.

In a morning accident, John Mayo and Cline Johnson were cut and bruised when the lead team of the stage coach on which they were riding during the taking of publicity pictures shied and upset the coach. The accident frightened three horses drawing Cavalcade's 70-year-old fire engine, causing them to run away. Coach and engine both were badly damaged.

Talks Given Before Group

PRINCETON-BY-THE-SEA, May 23—Two highly interesting messages were left with Coastiders last night when about 125 of them gathered at Patroni House for a joint meeting of coastsiders clubs at the instigation of the Western San Mateo County Progressive Association.

Atty. William H. Morrissey of Redwood City, who has been handling the case of the proposed Half Moon Bay breakwater, reported that he had just received a letter from Congressman Jack Anderson notifying him that the $69,000,000 rivers and harbors bill, which contains provisions for an investigation of the Pillar Point case, had passed the House and been sent to the Senate where he "sees no reason why it shouldn't pass."

WHARF PROMISED

"When it passes, a hearing will be held in Half Moon Bay at which it will be necessary for us to prove that a wharf will be built with free access for the government."

"I am assured by Mr. Patroni (proprietor of the hotel where the dinner was held) that he will build the wharf."

"So now we really hope to have a breakwater at Half Moon Bay."

The other message, fascinating both because of its subject matter and the manner of its delivery, was brought by Paul C. Smith, 30-year-old general manager of the San Francisco Chronicle and confidante of former

2 FIRST RUN HITS AT REDWOOD

Described as a farce, "Never Say Die" teaming Bob Hope and Martha Raye for the fourth consecutive time, will open at the Redwood Theater Sunday for two days. Written by a trio of crack scenarios, the screen play of "Never Say Die" pictures the experiences of a rich hypochondriac who thinks he has only a month to live and decides to make it a comfortable one. On the same program is Robert Hitchcock's newest hit, "The Lady Vanishes." This film received the New York critics' award as the best-directed picture of the year. A story of international espionage, "The Lady Vanishes" in some ways resembles Hitchcock's first great hit, "The 39 Steps." The cast includes Margaret Lockwood, Michael Redgrave, Paul Lukas and Dame May Whitty.

Planners Approve North Zoning Plan

Approval of the zoning plan for the entire North County area extending from El Camino Real to the county limit in San Francisco Bay and from Burlingame's north city limits to the north county limits was voted by the county planning commission last week. Planning Adviser Ronald Campbell reported.

The zoning plan provides for setbacks on Bayshore Hwy. and along the east side of El Camino Real, and for various business and residential zones through the North County section.

In addition, the commission set the next two meetings aside for consideration of a proposal to return certain business zones in North Palo Alto to residential areas. Approval of the Bay Rd. subdivision in Friendly Acres was granted.

President Hoover, with whom he visited 14 European countries a year ago.

TRIP TO EUROPE

Introduced by Edwin Willman of Pescadero, his one-time high school principal, Smith in an entertaining fashion told his listeners on a hurried jaunt to Belgium, France, Switzerland, Austria — where "resistance to the last" was pledged but in two weeks Anschluss had occurred — Czechoslovakia — where President Benes said he would not sell independence cheaply but a year later Hitler was in his palace — Poland, Latvia, Estonia, Finland, England, Russia and Germany.

Most of Smith's talk was devoted to his experiences in Germany, where he himself was not privileged to meet Adolf Hitler because of remarks he had made and written six years before after interviewing him. He did go with Mr. Hoover to the elaborate hunting lodge of Field Marshall Goering, however, where they had lunch. He described the ornate palace, which "conservative" Mr. Hoover later estimated must be worth at least $12,000,000 exclusive of the 100 acres of grounds.

FORESEES WAR SOON
Explaining that he was probably expected to make a prediction in regards to the possibility of war in Europe, Smith said that "there is going to be a war in Europe—the only difficult thing to determine being the day it is going to break out."

He said that in his opinion it would be "a matter of months, not years," despite the fact that all the rulers claim they want peace.

He had earlier in his talk said of Joseph Stalin of Russia, Benito Mussolini of Italy and Adolf Hitler of Germany: "You and I privately know that all three are nuts!"

SINGING, SHOWMANSHIP WIN PLAUDITS FOR BEL CANTO

BY STAFF REVIEWER

Good singing combined with good showmanship won for Redwood City's Bel Canto Chorus a warm spot in this big-hearted community Tuesday night.

Some 700 music patrons attended the Spring concert at Sequoia High School Auditorium and went away satisfied that the Bel Canto group is worthy of the municipal support it desires.

Eugene Fulton, organizer of the chorus, not only gave a good accounting as director and soloist, but proved himself a consummate master of ceremonies. From the theatrical opening behind closed curtains, a piano prologue blending into "Finlandia," as the group was revealed, it was apparent that the audience was to hear a fast-moving and delightfully interesting program.

For all that, the chorus nearly laced itself into a strait-jacket. The stage setting, severely simple, was almost harsh under bright lights reflecting on the uniformly white dresses of the women of the chorus. "Finlandia" and "God Bless America" were sung rather uneventfully under strong domination of the pianist.

A CAPELLA SKILL

It was not until the chorus relinquished the support of the accompanist in the difficult "Oh Blessed Are They" by Tchaikowsky that the skill of the group was apparent. Graceful tonal shadings, especially in the tenor section, normally the most difficult to organize in such a group, assured the audience of the calibre of the Bel Canto singers.

Came Michael Head's "Ships of Arcady" with its tinkling piano accompaniment, and "Steal Away" and "Honor! Honor!"—two Negro spirituals which found the chorus relaxed and singing with a joy for song which found ready response in the listeners.

Especially well received was Frederic H. Cowen's "Border Ballad," sung by the men of the chorus and repeated at the insistence of the audience. Here for the first time the baritone and basses, rather subdued throughout the program, sang with a resonance unsuspected in previous numbers.

The women sang "Silent Strings" by Granville Bantock, which might well have been the theme song of the organization. It speaks of heart strings silent too long, and the chorus revived voices that might otherwise have remained silent for lack of opportunity of expression.

DIFFICULT NUMBER

Most difficult number attempted was Fulton's arrangement of "Two Guitars," a truly ambitious undertaking placing severe stress on the soprano section which responded nobly. But in this writer's opinion the chorus reserved its best number to the last in Greg's familiar "Land-Sighting." Here the chorus showed full promise of what its continued development will bring. From the stolid phrases in unison to the sudden bursts of harmony, from the boldly sung crescendos to the sudden hushes which make one remember pipe organs and choir lofts, Bel Canto offered strictly good singing.

Informal introductions of each number by Fulton and a comedy gag by a supposed interloper not only put the audience but the singers at complete ease throughout the program.

SOLOISTS ENJOYED

Of the soloists, Miss Peggy Turnley was among the most popular. She sang with an inspiration and feeling that relieved the formality of some of the other presentations. Salvatore Messina, tenor, was presented in duet with

BETTE DAVIS AT SEQUOIA

Bette Davis and George Brent, in a scene from "Dark Victory," which will grace the screen at the Fox Sequoia Theater tonight and Saturday. "The Kid From Texas," with Dennis O'Keefe, will be the second feature on this program.

Fulton and in solo numbers and was roundly applauded by a friendly audience, although one could have wished that he had allowed himself somewhat wider range of emotion in "Che Geliva Manina" from LaBoheme.

Most unusual numbers were presented by the three Keeneys—Chester, Mildred and Ben—in unostentatious artistry that won plaudits for its unaffected simplicity. Chester Keeney sang "Mavourneen" in a subdued but melodious baritone. Mildred sang "Evening Song" as a solo, then joined Ben Keeney in his composition, "Do You Believe in Fairy Tales."

At concert's end back stage, Fulton expressed himself as completely satisfied with the work of his volunteer artists, an opinion shared by the 700 who paid 40 cents each for admissions and were content that they had received full value and more.

Fulton made acknowledgements to the Kiwanis Lions, and Exchange Clubs, which sponsored the concert, and to the Redwood City Junior Chamber of Commerce, Sequoia High School faculty, ushers, stage force and newspaper.

Accompanists were Clarissa Bray, of Redwood City, and Carolyn Jordan of San Francisco.

The recently excavated Circus Maximus in Rome had seats for 355,000 persons.

Pfafflin Pet Stricken, Dies

Another case of dog poisoning in Redwood City was being investigated today by Poundmaster Allan McKay.

It was the poisoning of the 7½-year-old pure bred collie owned by Miss Wilma Pfafflin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pfafflin of 304 Whipple Ave.

The pet was permitted out of its yard for only a short time Friday afternoon, but shortly after it returned home it went into convulsions and died, evidently of strychnine poisoning.

McKay warned people in the neighborhood to keep close watch of their pets. Although this was the only case reported, he recalled that only a few months ago five dogs were poisoned in the vicinity of the 100 block on Jeffer St.

Investigation Shows Bad Food Served at Prison, Olson Avers

Prison Board 'Can Resign'

SACRAMENTO, May 25 (AP)—Olson today reported the result of an investigation of food at San Quentin Prison with the charge some of it was found unfit for human consumption.

The investigation, he said, was largely an aftermath of the prison riots a few weeks ago.

He commented to his press conference: "I wouldn't refuse to accept the resignation of prison directors if they would send them in."

Previously he declared the situation pertained to the purchase, handling and serving of food and drug inspection of the State Department of Public Health.

The inquiry, the governor said, was launched by John G. Clark, director of penology.

A summary of the findings, made public by the governor's office, included the charges:

That Mar. 4, 1939, a shipment of meat accepted at the prison was mouldy and soured so the trimming necessary to make it fit for human consumption would materially reduce the amount of the purchase.

That Mar. 29 a shipment of hams was found to be spoiled and unfit for food "yet the most of the lot had already been put into stew to be served to the men." It said the hams were contracted for as U. S. No. 1 quality but when they were examined "not one good one was found in the lot."

The findings charged that on Sept. 29, 1938, 21,500 pounds of coffee were purchased "without qualification as to grade" at a cost of 13.01 cents a pound although coffee of good quality could be bought retail for 14 cents and "in carload lots the price ordinarily would be 6.5 to 7 cents a pound."

Dried fruit was declared to be wormy and the menu in general "monotonous and deficient in several nutritive essentials."

Governor Olson, stating he had not studied the report as much as he would like to, declared it his opinion the findings of the investigators indicated high prices were paid for food supposed to be of the best grade but that inferior food was received.

"There must have been profit in the hiatus," the governor said.

The members of the class of 1903 to be honored include P. A. Ryan, George C. Christ, C. H. Locker, George A. Genochio, George W. McNulty, Ernest H. Werder, Frank Boos, Fred E. George, George H. The regular meeting will start at 8 p.m. and the initiation at 8:15, with approximately 20 candidates expected to take the obligation.

E. A. Fletcher and Harry E. Bourquin head the committee in charge.

Lions' Clubs Seek New Screen 'Star'

Lions International, of which the Redwood City club is a part, has agreed to aid a moving picture company to find an "understudy" for a "screen star"—Leo the Lion, who introduces MGM short films.

Lions Club members are to search private and public zoos or menageries, photographing American-born lions under eight months of age. Scheduled plans call for a lion round-up of prospective candidates at the Lions convention in Pittsburgh July 18-21, with the successful candidate appearing at the New York World's Fair on Lions Day July 22, where he will be crowned Leo Jr. and then sent by airplane to Hollywood.

Answer Is Prepared To Kelly's Appeal

In the hands of the printer today was the county's brief in the appeal of the Stanley Kelly case to the appellate court. The brief was prepared by Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell, who handled the county's defense in the superior court successfully.

Kelly, former county purchasing agent, sought a writ of mandate, restoration of office, back pay, and a declaration that the ordinance which consolidated the offices of purchasing agent and executive is void.

Judge Warren V. Tryon held for the county and Kelly appealed. The arguments will be heard June 12.
